

The late speech of Mr. Blaine, at Augusta, which we published in our despatches yesterday, shows that the ill-mannered fellow is dying very hard.

The New York World says Hon. Henry Waterson would make a much better Secretary of the Navy than either Robeson or Wm. E. Chandler. We concur heartily in this idea.

FIELD MARSHAL HALSTEAD, of the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette, although he gives up the result and concedes that Cleveland has been elected President, is still very angry and shows a great deal of the bad temper of Mr. Blaine. They are both trying to renew the antagonism of the sections. They seem to think this the most effectual mode of keeping alive the Republican party as a sectional organization.

COLONEL W. C. GOODLOE upon two occasions, when Presidential contests were pending, made speeches in this city in behalf of the Republican candidates, in which he made use of most extravagant utterances. He said in substance upon both occasions, that no Democratic candidate for the Presidency would ever be elected, nor would ever be allowed to take possession of the White House. Both Mr. Goodloe and Cassius M. Clay, were better subjects for a lunatic asylum than as Presidential orators.

The writer of this was not quite old enough to vote for Gen. Andrew Jackson as President in 1832, but was old enough to see him inaugurated in 1835. He was both in 1828 and in 1832. It would give him inexpressible pleasure to be able to witness the inauguration of Grover Cleveland upon the East front of the new capitol in 1885. The growing infirmities of age and deficiency of the wherewithal to pay railroad fare and hotel bills, may deprive him of that pleasure, which would be the crowning one of his life.

The Democrats not only have the glorious satisfaction of redeeming the country from the further rule of Republicanism, but have generally won large amounts of money from their arrogant opponents. While the hunt for frauds and the demand for a fair count were going on in New York, a good many heavy Republican bets were preparing the way to hedge. The daily telegraphic announcements from the Republican National Committee, were weak devices for the purpose of frightening Democrats to make them draw their stakes. Thank the Lord, they didn't tighten much.

An error of five hundred votes in an Illinois Legislative district, breaks the tie between the two parties and gives the Democrats a majority. This causes general rejoicing because it throws Gen. A. Logan out of the United States Senate, and reminds him to that obscurity from which, for the peace and good of the country, he ought never to have emerged. If the Democratic members of the New York Legislature, unite with the independent Republicans, and make Mr. Conkling the Senator from that State, as they probably will do, then look out for lively times in the United States Senate.

The laws of Ohio make a stockholder in a corporation liable for twice the amount of his subscription. Quite a number of Kentuckians were caught in the Cincinnati National collapse and must now put up with a pile of debts incurred by the default concern after all they have laid out on it. But then they have no knowledge of Kentucky that the country papers in Kentucky thought highly of the News-Journal, puffed it on all occasions and declared it "a success from the start." (Louisville Post.)

The News-Journal was a good Democratic paper, did not prostitute its columns for mercenary purposes, and gave place to Republican writers like the notorious "Gath" and, above all, did not insidiously keep up the sectional strife by availing itself of every means to misrepresent and disparage the South. In common with the rest of the Democratic papers in Kentucky, we regretted that it had to succumb to pecuniary sacrifices.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 21.—Charles Leopold spent last evening at the residence of Miss Barbara Winterbauer on the Carrollton road, near here, and when taking his departure about 10 o'clock, took his revolver from his pocket to show to Miss Winterbauer. As her request he exhibited the cylinder of the pistol, and in replacing it, his thumb slipped from the hammer and the pistol exploded. The lady threw her hands up and exclaimed: "Oh, you have shot me!" and fell. A physician was immediately summoned. The ball entered the right side and probably penetrated to the heart. The wound is a dangerous one. Miss Winterbauer insists that the shooting was purely accidental and begs that Leopold will not be arrested.

America Ahead.—Peculiar Characteristics of Americans—The Evils and How Restored.

In this age of bustle and hurry, an age devoted to great projects and enterprises, the American people are taking the lead in the furtherance of noble works and in the advancement of the sciences and arts. In these they deserve to take a high rank, and through the united works of millions, the American continent is fast being transformed from its untamed state and being placed on an equality with the older continents beyond the ocean. The American people are fast, under these influences, developing into a nervous, energetic race, remarkable for its vim and business qualifications; yet there is danger that in the course of years these very elements may combine to the ruin of the physical character of the people, and leave them feeble and altogether different from their forefathers. General debility is now much more common than formerly, and seems to be on the increase among the masses. Many remedies have been extensively advertised for this wide-spread complaint, but none of these have been successful or met with such general favor as the remedy manufactured by Dr. S. B. Hartman, and named by him PATERNA.

Mr. S. S. Goudy, of Massillon, Stark county, Ohio, writes: "That he has been troubled with general debility and dyspepsia for several years; that he was induced to try PATERNA for his complaints, and that after using three bottles of the medicine he was greatly relieved. It braced him right up and gave him energy, and restored him to his youthful vigor. He ascribes his cure to PATERNA, and says it is a wonderful remedy."

Adolph Balthaus & Co., Springfield, O., writes: "We are having a good sale for PATERNA. It sells as well as any medicine we have, and gives the very best satisfaction."

Mrs. G. W. Needham, Newtonville, Clermont County, Ohio, says: "I have been a great sufferer for the last six or seven years, with general debility and change of life. I was very much reduced. I have taken four bottles of PATERNA, which has restored me to perfect health and strength. We think PATERNA a safe and grand medicine."
